II Kings Week One "Go Up Thou Bald Head"

It was usually a sign that something bad had happened when Dad was quiet after a phone call from another church member. The family had been sitting together in the living room having their family devotions when Dad took the call.

"Who was it, dear?" asked Mom.

Dad didn't answer for a minute. The rest of the family could tell he was upset. He didn't look sad; his jaw was set, though, and he had a glint of anger in his eyes. Max and Maxine looked at each other. They were glad that neither one of them had done anything wrong recently. They knew Dad wasn't mad at them.

Dad looked at Mom and answered, "Someone has spray-painted curse words on Pastor's house and broken several windows."

Max and Maxine looked back at each other in shock! "How could someone do that?" asked Max, starting to feel angry himself.

"What has Pastor ever done to hurt anyone to make them want to do something so wrong?" asked Maxine. She felt as if she was going to cry.

Dad's voice softened a little as he turned towards his children. "Sometimes you don't have to do anything. All you have to do is teach the truth and stand for what is right. Some people simply hate God and those people who stand for Him.”

That next morning Max helped Maxine take care of KJ. They told him what had happened to the Pastor’s house.

“That reminds me of the story of Elisha and the young men who mocked him,” said KJ. “Elisha cursed them in the name of the LORD and two she-bears came out of the woods and killed forty-two of them.”

“That’s what we need to do!” said Max. “We need to curse those guys back for what they did!”

“Time to bring out the bears!” said Devo.
