II Kings Week Four "Only a Little Sling"

After a while young boys have a difficult time sitting still, especially on a hot, summer day when the fish are calling you from the pond just down the street from your house. Max had help from his father, though, and a stern look from Dad helped calm his fidgeting.

The Pastor was bringing the message to a close, and although Max had done his best to listen carefully to every word that Pastor had preached, thoughts of fishing and swimming on a beautiful Sunday afternoon (between church services, of course...Max would never skip church to go fishing or swimming) competed fiercely for his attention.

Suddenly his thoughts snapped back to the service. "Children, young boys and girls," the Pastor was saying. "Have the opportunity to serve God right here in our own church. I have asked Mrs. Evergreen to get together a group of boys and girls and form a children's choir. One of our elderly church members who lives in a retirement home mentioned to me when I visited her this past week how much the other ladies in the home would..." "...love to hear children singing. I thought that this would be a wonderful opportunity for our children to serve the Lord.”

Dad gave Max a nudge and a look as if to say, “Wanna sing in that choir?” Max noticed that Maxine got the same nudge and look from Mom and leaned over to Maxine and said, “Looks like we’ve been picked to sing in the children’s choir.”

“Yeah!” whispered back Maxine. “That sounds like fun, doesn’t it?”

Max nodded his agreement. It would seem that the struggle between thoughts of fishing and swimming and the sermon that morning had ended; Max now was focused on singing in the children’s choir. He often had the chance to serve God in small things, like helping around the house and stuff. Now, however, Max and Maxine both were given the opportunity to do something big and important for God.

Max couldn’t wait to tell Devo after church. Max imagined he could hear Devo saying, “Just don’t mess up this one!”

Maxine's Bible Quest

Eight Years Old

- How old was Josiah when God made him king?
- Did God wait until Josiah was an adult to ask him to do right?
- How old do you have to be to do right?

That Which Was Right

- Did Josiah wait until he was a teenager to start serving the Lord?
- How does the Bible say that Josiah lived his life?

KJ's Verse of the Week:

II Kings 22:1a and 22:2a "Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign....And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD..."
